

Get Those Puppies in There!

A Story About Rose from Pennsylvania

Being married to Grumpy Too, I wanted to help with the special party for Rose, Grumpy One's mom. Little did I know that my job was to help Rose get ready for the shindig, which required only two tasks, getting her teeth in and getting her bra on.

So, off I go to her room at Fairview Manor, leery and worried that she wouldn't let a stranger "handle" this feat...but she was ready for me. Being a double AA size myself, I had no idea what a double DD size looked like, let alone what went in them.

We struggled together in a Houdini fashion of twisting, strapping, pushing, and clasping until those "puppies" were firmly secured in their "package". No easy task! Now the teeth, that was easier. She did that herself... whew! Now we were ready! Boldly and proudly, we arrived at her birthday party in full gear with laughter and smiles... and sweat on my brow! Yes, that was my very close encounter with Rose. An experience I shall never forget. Thank you Rose, for the endearing challenge.
